Dear Mrs. Jagan,

I am writing you this letter to congratulate you on the award which you have recently received. I saw it on the Internet. I know that you have always done good deeds for people and for the country because you enjoy doing so, and not because of any expectation of reward. That is why I was extremely pleased when I read about the award. Dr Jagan and yourself have unselfishly given your entire lives to the service of the Guyanese people. Having been born and bred on a sugar estate ( Ogle ), I can personally attest to the remarkable changes which your husband and yourself have been able to bring about for the sugar workers.

Having worked with you for so many years in your capacity as Health Minister, I feel that I am qualified to judge your ability and your dedication to Guyana. I have often said that the Health Care System in Guyana accomplished the most during your term of office as Minister of Health. This was only possible by your excellent administrative skills, your ability to size up situations and make prompt decisions, and your dedication to the cause.

I am told that you are not in the best of health but I do not see a more capable and suitable candidate to lead the PPP / Civic at the next election. The Guyanese people have a lot of faith and confidence in you because they have tested you over the years and found you to be extremely capable and very genuine. The PNC is only using your race as a smoke screen because they know your ability and they cannot find anything else to criticize you about.

I hope that the Party wins the next elections and I am offering myself to serve in any capacity you may want me to serve after the next elections. I would prefer a position in which I can maximize the use of my years of experience in policy formulation and management of health services. I have retired and I am getting a pension so my financial expectations would be minimal.

Congratulations again and I wish you all the best in the coming elections.

Yours Sincerely

Chetram Singh F.H.S.M.: C.H.E.: M.Inst. P.S.
