In December 1993, Dr. Jagan along with a Government and business sector delegation visited India on a State visit. Meeting with Prime Minister of India (above) and inspecting the Indian armed forces in front of the Presidential Palace (below).

Addressing pre-election meetings.

"The countdown to freedom has begun. It is a moment you have awaited, for nearly three decades. What will unfold over the next 28 years will be the beginning of a new era for our country. A time of purpose. Every Guyanese will truly have a place regardless of political or religious persuasion, ethnicity or class..."

In the hard line and the violence since 1964, Dr. Jagan was elected President of Guyana on October 5, 1992 after the PPP/Civic Party, which he formed in 1985, won the first free and fair election in 28 years. After over a quarter of a century, Dr. Jagan returned to the presidential palace. In office he set about to reverse the corruption and mismanagement of the Forbes Burnham years.

In December 1993, Dr. Jagan along with a Government and private sector delegation visited India on a State visit. Meeting with Prime Minister of India (above) and inspecting the Indian armed forces in front of the Presidential Palace (below).

Addressing pre-election meetings.

"The countdown to freedom has begun. It is a moment you have awaited, for nearly three decades. What will unfold over the next 28 years will be the beginning of a new era for our country. A time of purpose. Every Guyanese will truly have a place regardless of political or religious persuasion, ethnicity or class..."

In the hard line and the violence since 1964, Dr. Jagan was elected President of Guyana on October 5, 1992 after the PPP/Civic Party, which he formed in 1985, won the first free and fair election in 28 years. After over a quarter of a century, Dr. Jagan returned to the presidential palace. In office he set about to reverse the corruption and mismanagement of the Forbes Burnham years.

In December 1993, Dr. Jagan along with a Government and business sector delegation visited India on a State visit. Meeting with Prime Minister of India (above) and inspecting the Indian armed forces in front of the Presidential Palace (below).

Addressing pre-election meetings.

"The countdown to freedom has begun. It is a moment you have awaited, for nearly three decades. What will unfold over the next 28 years will be the beginning of a new era for our country. A time of purpose. Every Guyanese will truly have a place regardless of political or religious persuasion, ethnicity or class...

In the hard line and the violence since 1964, Dr. Jagan was elected President of Guyana on October 5, 1992 after the PPP/Civic Party, which he formed in 1985, won the first free and fair election in 28 years. After over a quarter of a century, Dr. Jagan returned to the presidential palace. In office he set about to reverse the corruption and mismanagement of the Forbes Burnham years.

In December 1993, Dr. Jagan along with a Government and business sector delegation visited India on a State visit. Meeting with Prime Minister of India (above) and inspecting the Indian armed forces in front of the Presidential Palace (below).

Addressing pre-election meetings.

"The countdown to freedom has begun. It is a moment you have awaited, for nearly three decades. What will unfold over the next 28 years will be the beginning of a new era for our country. A time of purpose. Every Guyanese will truly have a place regardless of political or religious persuasion, ethnicity or class...

In the hard line and the violence since 1964, Dr. Jagan was elected President of Guyana on October 5, 1992 after the PPP/Civic Party, which he formed in 1985, won the first free and fair election in 28 years. After over a quarter of a century, Dr. Jagan returned to the presidential palace. In office he set about to reverse the corruption and mismanagement of the Forbes Burnham years.