Our attitude is expressed in the slogan.

We therefore have mixed feelings on the question of independence celebrations.

We will mark Independence Day as another milestone in our march to freedom and progress, as the ending of the chapter of colonialism and the beginning of our struggle against neo-colonialism.